NORMANDY FARMS FAMILY CAMPGROUND NAMED 2005-2006 PARK OF THE YEAR

Falls Church, Virginia – Normandy Farms Family Campground, Foxboro, Massachusetts was named as the 2005-2006 Park of the Year in the “large” park category by the National Association of RV Parks & Campgrounds (ARVC). Members of the Daniels Family, owners, accepted the award during the ARVC InSites 2005 Convention and Expo, held in Austin, Texas.

Normandy Farms Family Campground is a two-time recipient of this prestigious award given to parks with 251 to 499 sites. Located in close proximity to Boston and Cape Cod, Normandy Farms Family Campground offers a retreat to those visiting the surrounding historical areas. A true family-oriented resort is a perfect description for this campground which is open year-round and offers amenities ranging from indoor swimming activities to winter sports.

The property has been in the Daniels family since 1759 when Francis Daniels purchased 53 acres. As the years have passed, the farm grew in acreage, and each succeeding generation has taken its place at Normandy. From a dairy farm to raising chickens, and then sheep, the family has all worked the land first cleared from the wilderness 240 years ago. Now the 7th, 8th, & 9th generations are contributing to New England's finest four season camping resort.

The Park of the Year Awards are sponsored by Trailer Life Directory, owned by the Affinity Group, and are judged on criteria that includes national directory ratings; operations excellence; customer service; community service; association involvement; park promotions; management skills; and education and training techniques.

The National Association of RV Parks & Campgrounds represents more than 3,900 commercial RV parks and campgrounds throughout the US and Canada. The association is headquartered in Falls Church, Virginia. The association's annual convention and expo, InSites, is the largest convention and expo of the outdoor hospitality industry.
