

PRESS RELEASE

Foxboro, Massachusetts. — Normandy Farms Family Camping Resort located in Foxboro, Massachusetts, was awarded Large Park of the Year by the National Association of RV Parks and Campgrounds (ARVC) during its annual Outdoor Hospitality Expo & Conference held Nov. 2-6, in Daytona Beach, FL. This is the fourth win for Normandy Farms; also the award recipient in 1985, 1995, 2005, and now 2015.

Park of the Year awards were awarded to RV parks and campgrounds that deliver an extraordinary guest experience as a result of all-around excellence in operations, professionalism, marketing, guest service, and industry involvement.

“We are so proud to receive this award, which would not have been achieved without the hard work and dedication of our team” said President & Owner, Albert Daniels.

In addition to being recognized as Large Park of the Year, Marcia Galvin, Human Resource Director at Normandy and ARVC Chairman, awarded Normandy Farms President & Owner, Albert Daniels the 2015 ARVC Chairman’s Award. The Chairman’s Award is awarded to an individual who has made a significant impact in the camping industry. Marcia Galvin and Albert Daniels are the only two second generational family members to serve this role.
